American alligators back in Rochester for the summer

Exciting Summer Programs begin on May 24 at the Zoo

Rochester, NY – May 20, 2014 — Just in time for the upcoming Memorial Day weekend, Monroe County’s Seneca Park Zoo is pleased to welcome three American alligators back to the Zoo. The alligators arrived at the Zoo yesterday evening.

“You know summer is upon us when the alligators arrive for the season,” said Pam Cowan, Communications Director for the Seneca Park Zoo Society. “Year after year, these reptiles make quite an impression on our visitors. In fact, our Alligator Experience is a must-see for many of our summer visitors.”

Hailing from the St. Augustine Alligator Farm and Zoological Park in Florida, these long-awaited reptiles will remain at the Zoo through mid-September.

Summer Programming begins Saturday, May 24:

Starting Saturday, May 24 and continuing through Labor Day, Zoo visitors can stop by the Zoo anytime between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily to see any of our seven, unique live shows that highlight adaptations, social structure, communication and more. Our scheduled Alligator Experience will take place at 1:30 p.m. each Monday. Visit our Web site (www.senecaparkzoo.org) for a complete 2014 Summer Program schedule.
